Dearest mother,

April 1st, 1928

Lots of things have happened since I put the heading on this letter. Just after I had started it, I answered the telephone here in the house. It was an instructor at Harvard Business School calling for a date with Rosemary Hatfield. He asked her to ask the girl who answered the phone to double-date with a friend of his, George Gates, another instructor. Mr Gates was very nice, good tatter and dancer. He is from Kansas City and about twenty-eight We went to a dinner restaurant and danced for several hours.

They said they would look us up again this week, but I never put much faith in such promises until I see them again.

Today Helen was out for dinner with a Wellesley girl, and had a date for the afternoon and evening with a Harvard law student.
I spent the day at Mary's. Larry Grady was there from five till ten. He's the one I had the date with last fall at the Harvard - I. U. game and in the evening. I heard that his paternity gave him a faddling for being so dumb on the date and not taking us to a show or a dance.
I may have him out to a dance sometime this spring. He's an excellent dancer, and can be very entertaining when he wants to be.

Helen says she is getting me a date for Thursday night with a Mr. Spidell, law student at Harvard, and who comes from Anderson, Ind. The affair is the Dancer's Club regular evening at one of the big Boston hotels. What a gay life, after the months at Wellesley!

Margaret Dunn says that if I want to stay this summer, I can room with her & three other girls in a nice apartment in Boston at $50 a month - $12.50 each. Altogether our living expenses would not exceed $7 or $8 ea. week. I am anxious to hear your suggestions

I received dad's special this morning & was most agreeably surprised. I shall write him soon.

Bunny is fine except for a little cold. Mary Elizabeth is pretty, bright, and full of pep. I like her very much. Mary is much the same, but looks tired. People should look after their health above all things.

I bought some overshoes, and am having my oxfords repaired and a couple of jackets cleaned. I hope dad does not forget to send me some extra money.

Much love,
Grace
